

February 19, 2026: On The First Paragraph Already Rings True to Me

Since I was essentially placed in the exact same position where the 'Trump' team began soliciting help from the public and presenting a relationship with their (Republican Party) team as being a beneficial place to be in 2016 - 2020, I can understand the lure of Donald Trump's public persona seeming to present itself as someone that you would want to help.

Many millions of us Americans came rushing to his aid as he lured us with lies, deceptions, rope-a-dope acting, and slippery, oily, greasy, public media maneuvers to help sell his 'rescue me' act.

THIS IS JUST THE FIRST PARAGRAPH OF ALLEGATIONS! I CAN COMPLETELY UNDERSTAND AND BELIEVE THIS TO BE TRUE. Donald Trump invites you to help him and then turns around and begins abusing you and raping you?! UH! WHERE HAVE I SEEN THIS BEFORE? (My own reality right fucking now as his team drives another set of vehicles past the front of my home while I write this).

I am staying true and correct to principles. Rape is defined as [define rape]. Duress is defined as [define duress]. Abuse is defined as [define abuse]. Donald's publicly shown behaviors match these factors because A, B, C . . . X, Y, Z . . . 1, 2, 3. In conclusion, Donald is actively raping, abusing, and causing duress - by his own publicly shown demeanor!

Anyway, this is just the first paragraph, imagine if I had the time, money, or inclination to give a shit about that lowlife has been. Tar, spin, feather, repeat.

A. The Bergdorf Goodman Assault

In 1996, Ms. Carroll encountered Mr. Trump at the Bergdorf Goodman department store in Manhattan. At the time, Ms. Carroll was an advice columnist for Elle Magazine and hosted a daily advice talk show called ("Ispy, with my little eye . . .") (emphasis on liddle, little, eye) "Ask E. Jean." App'x at 1570-73. Mr. Trump recognized Ms. Carroll and asked (flaunts his wealth, not his virtues, to impress her) her to stay and help him pick a gift for a girl. Describing this as a "funny New York scene" and (presents a 'relationship' with his public persona to be beneficial) a "wonderful prospect" for a "born advice columnist" to give advice to Mr. Trump on buying a gift, Ms. Carroll said yes. Id. at 1590.
